LANDER CLAN CONVENES AT SALUBRIA

Reunion of The Descendants of The First Immigrant,
William Lander.

THERE WERE SIXTY PRESENT.

Of the 183 Known Descendants About One-Third Were on Hand.

About sixty descendants of William Lander (1), who came to America 200 years ago, held a family reunion at Salubria Springs Wednesday, which was continued two days.

The Lander family is one of the oldest in Kentucky, William Lander (2) being one of the first pioneers.

The reunion was brought about by Rev. David Lander, Easley, S. C., who has gathered much genealogical information for a family history and from his valuable stores of family history this information is taken.

William Lander (1) was born in Saxony about 1675 and moved with his brother John to England and shortly thereafter came to America early in the 18th century. John settled in Massachusetts, while William journeyed southward and settled finally in Hampshire county, Virginia. He was a tailor by trade and lived to be 116 years old. He married in this country and had at least three children. A daughter married Levi Ashbrook, a Baptist minister; a son Charles, "went south" and was lost sight of, and Henry, who is the common ancestor of the Kentucky family. Henry was born not later than 1725 and married a Miss Skinner of Loudon county, Va. He reared six sons and one daughter. The sons were Charles, Jacob, Nathan, John, William and Henry and are known as the patriarchs. Charles was born in 1754 and served in the Revolutionary army, company six, third Virginia regiment, Col. Wm. Heth, commander. Henry and the six sons moved to Kentucky about 1788, all but William having married in Virginia. Charles married a Foreman, Jacob an Ashbrook, Nathan and John married twin sisters by the name of Skinner. Henry a Little, while William married Letitia Stode of Stode's Station in Clark county, Ky.

Charles and his father settled near North Middletown in Bourbon county, where they died. The father died at the age of 84, from being burned, while Charles died of cholera in 1833. He had three sons and four daughters. As far as known he has thirty living male representatives, the most of whom are living in Missouri and California. Charles served one term in the legislature from Bourbon county. His son John served in the war of 1812 and afterwards became the father of eighteen children. Two of his grandsons were in the Union army and one in the Confederate army during the Civil War. A great grandson, David, is a Presbyterian minister.

Jacob settled in Clark county and built the first grist mill in all that section. He was famed as a man of unusual strength. His eldest son, Levi, taught school till he was an old man, dying in Mexico, Mo., in 1882. His son Henry reared a large and interesting family at Knoxville, Ill. Prominent among them was Hon. Harry Lander, who died at Brookfield, Mo., a few years ago.
As far as known Jacob has but eighteen living male representatives.
He moved from Clark to Breckinridge county and died at the age of 78.

Nathan settled first in Clark and later in Breckinridge. He outlived all his brothers, dying at the age of 94. His daughter Adah married Philip Lightfoot and reared a large family in Breckinridge, but only two of his male descendants survive, both of whom attended the reunion—Capt. Frank Lander of Hawesville and Tracy J. Lander of Vincennes, Ind.

Patriarch John was sheriff of Hampshire county before leaving Virginia. He settled close to Winchester and much of the land he owned is now within the city limits.
He moved to Christian county in 1818 and bought a fine farm west of Hopkinsville. He was soon elected county commissioner, in which office he continued till death and was noted for his integrity in settling estates. He reared a large family. His daughter Addie married John Wilcox, a nephew of Daniel Boone. Two other daughters married Luckeys of Bourbon county and reared large families in Mexico, Mo. His son John served in the war of 1812 and became one of the wealthiest men in Christian county.
He owned several thousand acres of land near Pembroke and his son James was in the Confederate army.
Samuel, a son of Patriarch John, moved to Bloomington, Ill., in an early day, reared a large family and became quite wealthy. He was a member of the state constitutional convention. John D., one of his sons, was in the war with Mexico, and Charles W. was a federal soldier in the Civil War. So far as known John has twenty-three living male descendants.

The Patriarch William also settled in Clark and afterward moved to Christian county, where he bought 1300 acres of choice land near Belleview, now Gracey. He was a great stock man and his horses and cattle took first premiums at many county fairs. He also reared the largest family of all and has sixty-seven living male descendants. His grandson, James A. of Yoakum, Texas, is perhaps the eldest and wealthiest of all the families. He also has a large family, among whom are several bankers.

Henry, son of William, served in the war of 1812 and two of his sons, Wiley and John, served in the Union army during the Civil War.
Wiley became the father of nineteen children and was killed by the cars at Burgen, Ky.

Jas. H. and Stephen Lander, sons of William, were, for many years, among the most prominent citizens of Christian county.

Henry, the last of the patriarchs, was the last to move from Virginia.
He settled first in Clark and afterward moved to Christian county and bought 327 acres of land on the town fork of Little river, a few miles out from Hopkinsville. He died suddenly in the prime of life, leaving a large family. Thomas, his eldest son, has numerous descendants near Pomeroy, Ohio, and Hanford, Cal. Three other sons moved to California, Isaac and Israel prospered, but Patterson became wealthy. Wilson married his cousin Pauline Lander. He died in 1879 from the kick of a horse and his widow has since been one of the best beloved women of Hopkinsville.
Frank D. Lander, who became editor of the Nashville Tennessean after the murder of ex-Senator Carmack, is a grandson of Henry.

The meeting at Salubria was called to order in the grove about the hotel, by Rev. David Lander, a handsome, well preserved and unusually intelligent gentleman of middle-age.
After opening a register and introducing those strangers to each other, Mr. Lander read extracts from his proposed history, which was listened to with keenest interest until the noon hour. After a good dinner at the hotel, during which Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Petre personally looked after the service and saw that the big gathering was well fed, the reading was resumed and a group picture was taken by artist W. R.
Bowles. The exercises of the first day were concluded at 4:30 o'clock.

The second day was spent with more attention to social features and the exchanging of bits of family history and information.

Those who attended were as follows:

David Lander, Easley S. C. Frank Lander, Hawesville, Ky. aged 82.

THE Administration of Estates!

There is no more sacred duty than that can devolve upon man, than the custody of money not his own. When, by reason of ill health or old age, men find it impossible to properly manage their valuable interests, and thereby to protect those whom they must leave behind them, it becomes necessary for them to seek another, who, representing them, can safely be entrusted with their property, and who will conscientiously inspect their wishes and anxieties.

Under the laws of Kentucky we have specifically set aside ONE-HALF of our protection of Fiduciary or

INCOME TAX FAILS THIS YEAR

Only Thirty of Thirty-Five States Necessary Lined Up For Amendment.

NEW YORK SUPPORTS PLAN

Fifteen Legislatures' Defeat of Proposal or Failure to Act Bars Success.

New York.—Although New York by the action of the assembly at Albany swings into the list of states that have ratified the proposed federal income tax and brings the total up to thirty-one, tabulation shows that the necessary vote of thirty-five, or three-fourths the states, is out of the question this year. The New York assembly passed the income tax resolution, already passed by the senate, 91 to 42.

Fifteen states have either defeated the amendment in one or both houses, have adjourned without taking, or, having indorsed the measure in one branch, have gone into adjournment with the other branch unrecorded. This accounts collectively for all the forty-six states to date.

Eliminating Arkansas, whose governor has raised a nice constitutional question by vetoing the indorsement of the amendment by both branches of the state legislature, but thirty votes in favor of the proposal remain. Thus it is obvious that further progress must await the convening of new legislatures.

The fifteen states which have failed to indorse the amendment either through adverse action or by inactive adjournment are Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Utah, Rhode Island, Virginia, Vermont, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Those which have indorsed the amendment are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kentucky, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, New York, Nevada, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin.

PIERCE--WEST.

Mr. Geo. R. Pierce Weds Mrs.
M. L. West.

Mr. Geo. R. Pierce and Mrs. M.
L. West, widow of the late Sidney West, were married at the bride's home Twelfth street, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, Rev. C. M. Thompson officiating. The bride is a sister of Mr. Pierce's first wife. The groom is a prominent and highly esteemed citizen, who lives on a fine farm a few miles south of the city.
He has several grown children, two of whom live in this city, Mrs. R.
I. Stowe and Henry Pierce. After the wedding they drove to their home in the country.

Judge O'Rear Should Resign.

A Judge of the Court of Appeals campaigning the State as the nominee of a political party for the office of Governor is not a spectacle calculated to inspire respect for or confidence in the judiciary. The republican platform will outline the principles and measures to which Judge O'Rear will be committed. He will thus in advance prejudice a number of issues that may come before him on the bench after Senator McCreary has defeated him for Governor. He could not render an unprejudiced judgment. It is his duty, therefore to resign the office of Judge while running for Governor.—Cynthiana Democrat.
